

Press Release for the Boston Free Library Book Sale

This October, the Friends of the Boston Library will be hosting their Annual Fall Book Sale at the Boston Free Library, located at 9475 Boston State Road, Boston NY. The Book Sale will take place from Saturday, October 7th through Friday, October 20th during regular library hours.

Books are presorted and priced to sell. Many DVDs, music CDs, and almost new items are available. Most items are $1.00 and under and children's books are only .25 cents. Antique and collectible books are priced individually. Boxes and bags will be provided by the library or you may bring your own. Beginning Friday, October 13th you can fill a box for $5.00. From Tuesday, October 17th until the end of the sale you can fill a box for just $2.00.

All proceeds will benefit the Boston Free Library. Funds raised during the event support the maintenance of the historic building and help the library continue to provide free programming for all ages. The library plans to expand its outdoor programming space with the construction of a pavilion next spring.

Other activities at the Boston Free Library this fall include monthly craft programs for all ages, Lego Club on one Tuesday each month, weekly Preschool Story Time on Thursdays at 11:00 AM, Kids Yoga on Saturday, September 30th at 11:00 AM, Creative Writing and Storytelling with Eric Williams on Thursday, November 16th at 5:00 PM for kids in 4th grade and up, and an Adult Ukulele Class beginning on Thursday, November 2nd at 1:30 PM.

The Boston Free Library also has an ever-expanding Library of Things including yard games, a metal detector, digital radon detector, trail camera, outdoor projector, film and slide converter devices and much more! The library has a 3D printer and Cricut Maker Machine available for in-house use.

For more information about the book sale or any other library programs visit the Boston Free Library at 9475 Boston State Road or call (716) 941-3516.
